2. My/our submission is (see notes 1 and 2):

I support the application because the Oreti River is an absolute gem and a treasure for all New Zealanders. It is a very special trout fishery, being easy to get to, having spectacular backcountry scenery and populated by some of the largest and most challenging trout in New Zealand. Not that I am all that keen to share the resource, but, it is also highly thought of by overseas anglers and certainly contributes a significant amount in tourism revenues. I feel it is imperative to protect this river and its values for future generations.

The outstanding features and characteristics are to be protected by prohibiting damming; restricting the taking of surface water and groundwater, restricting alteration of river flow, form or water quality; and the maintenance of fish passage.

The applicant also seeks protection of the main stem of the Oreti between Mossburn and the bridge at Wallacetown, for:

- Its necessary contribution to the outstanding angling and fishery values upstream.
- This necessary contribution is to be protected in this stretch by a prohibition on damming, which will enable fish passage to be maintained.

The application is supplemented by further information provided to the Minister in July and August 2005.
