I have lived in the Turika Valley since 1934 and the expansion of the area has grown beyond consideration of what I ever thought was possible (never in my lifetime)

I was never consulted about the subdivision that has occurred around my property.

The power is necessary due to all the extra large houses being built in and around the area. Each house has computers etc, so therefore more demand for power

With no extra power being generated by hydro generation, power generation has to come from somewhere. And the windmills are a very good source of power production.

I support renewable generation and the proposed Turika windfarm.
