Dear Sir or Madam

Turitea Call In

Wind energy is a good renewable source of energy but the Turitea Reserve is NO place for wind turbines. The motives for even considering to turn this reserve into a windfarm have to be wondered at.

The few meager remnants of native vegetation remaining in the Manawatu should not be further degraded by this unnecessary action, there is other already cleared and often unproductive land in many places that would be more suitable.

The earthworks necessary to make a windfarm would undoubtedly cause erosion which could not only destroy the delicate ecosystem of the Turitea reserve but would also cause silting into the local waterways that contain native fish including endangered species. What happens to the Palmerston North water supply when silt and spills from the construction site inevitably end up in the supply dams?

The Ruahine and Tararua skyline in the vicinity of the Manawatu Gorge and Palmeston North is already heavily peppered with wind turbines surely we are not that desperate that we must pollute this small remaining area of the Turitea Water Reserve with turbines also.

It shouldn't be necessary to point out that those days of wholesale destruction of native forest to make way for commercial enterprise are long past.

Please don't turn the Turitea Water Reserve into a WindFarm, the beautiful and unique native forest there should be protected.
