Subject: Control of water in New Zealand.

To whom it may concern.

Please note that as a 66year old born and bred New Zealander I am totally opposed to any race based laws and I find this is now a common practice in not only national government policy but also local government policy. I find it beyond belief that any particular group would have control over our water. Any policy that is based on race would be a travesty for the future of our nation. It would change our nation from a great egalitarian nation to a very divisive nation.

I don't expect this from a National party government whom has had my vote for some time.

Politicians never seem to learn from history.

Kind regards

B Dixon
