I strongly object to the water that comes from the heavens and has been doing so for millions of years, that is important for all life in New Zealand, is going to be used as a political and financial bribe by the National government to the Maori party for their support in parliament.

This bribe will put millions of dollars into Iwis at the expense of all local councils and their ratepayers and tax payers, who will be held to ransom.

The National or indeed any other political party has no right to give the water to any separate race or party without the mandate of all New Zealanders by way of an advised policy or referendum that is inclusive of all New Zealanders
