Publishing and releasing submissions

All or part of any written submission (including names of submitters) may be published on the Ministry for the Environment's website www.mfe.govt.nz. Unless you clearly specify otherwise in your submission, we will consider that you have consented to website posting of both your submission and your name.

Contents of submissions may be released to the public under the Official Information Act 1982 following requests to the Ministry for the Environment (including via email). Please advise if you have any objection to the release of any information contained in a submission and, in particular, which part(s) you consider should be withheld, together with the reason(s) for withholding the information. We will take into account all such objections when responding to requests for copies of, and information on, submissions to this consultation under the Official Information Act.

The Privacy Act 1993 applies certain principles about the collection, use and disclosure of information about individuals by various agencies, including the Ministry for the Environment. It governs access by individuals to information about themselves held by agencies. Any personal information you supply to the Ministry in the course of making a submission will be used by the Ministry only in relation to the matters covered by this consultation. Please clearly indicate in your submission if you do not wish your name to be included in any summary of submissions that the Ministry may publish.

Fresh water and our environment

1. Do you agree that overall water quality should be maintained or improved within a freshwater management unit rather than within a region? Why or why not?

Yes

No

Water is fundamental to life and in New Zealand no one racially selected group or non elected group should have any say in the management of this resource .Only democratically elected persons of the local area which govern the community must manage the resource under Water Quality and availability standards set by central government. If Local regions have limited resource then Central Government should be responsible for quality availability of water overall.

2. How should the attributes be applied, or the values protected, in giving effect to the requirement to maintain or improve overall water quality? Please explain.

By democratically elected governing bodies nationally and locally

3. What is an appropriate way to include measures of macroinvertebrates in the National Policy Statement for Freshwater Management? What alternative measures could be used for monitoring ecosystem health?

Employ University qualified expert consultants to advise democratically elected government and local management paid for by Central Government

4. What information should be required in a request to include significant infrastructure in Appendix 3 of the National Policy Statement for Freshwater Management, and why would this information be important?

Seek advice from expert consultants in this field

5. Do you agree with applying lake attributes and national bottom lines to intermittently closing or opening lakes or lagoons? Why or why not?

Yes

No

Economic use of fresh water

8. Should standards for efficient water use be developed? Should standards for good management practices for diffuse nitrogen discharges be developed? Who should be involved in their development? When should they be applied to consents (eg, on consent expiry and/or on limit setting and/or permanent transfer)?

Yes Seek advice from expert consultants in this field

9. Do you support easier transfer of consents? Do you think the changes outlined in Proposal 2.4 would better enable transfers? What other changes would better enable transfers?

10. How should the Government help councils and communities address over-allocation for water quality and water quantity? Should it provide guidance, rules or something else (please specify)?

Seek advice from expert consultants in this field

11. Should councils have greater flexibility in how they meet the costs of improving freshwater management? For example, by recovering costs from water users and those who discharge to water? Please provide examples.

Central Government should underwrite Local Bodies expenses

Iwi rights and interests in fresh water

12. How can the Government help councils and communities to better interpret and apply Te Mana o te Wai in their region?

Water is fundamental to life and in New Zealand no one racially selected group or non elected group should have any say in the management of this resource .Only democratically elected persons of the local area which govern the community must manage the resource under Water Quality and availability standards set by central government. If Local regions have limited resource then Central Government should be responsible for quality availability of water overall.

13. Should councils be required to identify and record iwi/hapū relationships with freshwater bodies, and how should they do it?

No - Unnecessary

14. What would support councils and iwi/hapū to engage about their values for freshwater bodies?

15. What are your views on the proposal for a new rohe-based agreement between iwi and councils for natural resource management? What type of support would be helpful for councils and iwi to implement these to enable better iwi/hapū engagement in natural resource planning and decision-making?

Water is fundamental to life and in New Zealand no one racially selected group or non elected group should have any say in the management of this resource .Only democratically elected persons of the local area which govern the community must manage the resource under Water Quality and availability standards set by central government. If Local regions have limited resource then Central Government should be responsible for quality availability of water overall.

16. What are your views of the proposed amendments to water conservation orders? Outline any issues you see with the process and protection afforded by water conservation orders?

Other comments

19. Do you have any further comments you wish to make about the Government's proposals?

I absolutely oppose giving any rights to one racially selected group of persons to have any say in the government of any aspect of New Zealander.

This is totally undemocratic and totally unacceptable to the vast majority of New Zealanders.

This whole discussion is a dangerous path to apartheid in conducted along racial consideration
