To whom it may concern I am concerned that Iwi are been give more control over water. Why are the other parties to the Treaty of waitangi, it should be noted that there are five people who are covered by this document. Never do the points , views or belief of people from Soctland, Ireland or wales taken. As someone from Socttish background and people who grown up on the land and who view water has very important. Were are our rights and specail treatment under the treaty????? The management of water needs to be given equal to all people that make up this country specail right should be give to all the poeple that were party to the treaty not jsut Moari. James Webster
