

Clean Water Consultation 2017

Kathryn Bayliss

The Government should stop investing in irrigation projects and use the money allocated to them to improve water quality. Any money allocated from the Freshwater Improvement Fund should not be used to support new irrigation projects.