After a life time of fencing many patches of remnant native forest I am angered that Bureaucrats would think that this proposal could be good!

These Bush remnants are here because we have protected them, culled thousands of opossums, stoats and rats.

They are not here because we have just not got around to cutting them down and turning them into a nice hay paddock!!

If Forest and Bird think that we may be going to clear these areas then maybe they should start paying heaps of money to Farmers for their great work in preserving and caring for these precious areas.

Yours faithfully
