A climate law like the Zero Carbon Act is important because...

We need to make changes to reduce the negative impacts of climate change. Without clear commitments and a law with targets that will be monitored the risk is that nothing effective will be done. Without a strong clear law changes of government will lead to loss of momentum and effect as they mess about. Leading to adverse climate change effects. Including species biodiversity will be lost, adverse weather loss of lives and peoples homes.

Long-term target

I support the most ambitious target of reducing total greenhouse gases to net zero by 2050. I also support taking a science-based approach to ensure our efforts to reduce emissions are as impactful as possible: we should aim for negative levels of long-lived gases, while reducing short-lived gases to sustainable levels. This target should be reached by reducing our own emissions and not by using international carbon credits.

Climate Commission

I support the establishment of an independent Climate Commission that is made up of experts and provides advice, but does not make final decisions.

Adaptation

I support a plan for adaptation being included in the Zero Carbon Act.

Climate justice

A Zero Carbon Act must be just and fair in that it honours Te Tiriti o Waitangi; ensures a just transition for workers and communities; and avoids passing on the costs to future generations.

Further comments

Don’t pass this problem into future generations throw this greed and lack of strength to make the right just decisions.
