A climate law like the Zero Carbon Act is important because...	I have children, it is selfish of us not to try and eliminate our reliance on fossil fuels.
Long-term target	I support the most ambitious target of reducing total greenhouse gases to net zero by 2050. I also support taking a science-based approach to ensure our efforts to reduce emissions are as impactful as possible: we should aim for negative levels of long-lived gases, while reducing short-lived gases to sustainable levels. This target should be reached by reducing our own emissions and not by using international carbon credits.
Climate Commission	I support the establishment of an independent Climate Commission that is made up of experts and provides advice, but does not make final decisions.
Adaptation	I support a plan for adaptation being included in the Zero Carbon Act.
Climate justice	A Zero Carbon Act must be just and fair in that it honours Te Tiriti o Waitangi; ensures a just transition for workers and communities; and avoids passing on the costs to future generations.
Further comments	This is an opportunity to focus on a new way of doing things, NZ should start to embrace this change, invest in research for new technologies, and become leaders in alternative options. Change is inevitable. Let's offer our children the opportunity to be leaders of change rather than wait for them to realise their elders left them relying on dirty resources.
