Do you have any other comments you'd like to make?

Notes

I believe that education is key!! A lot of people know about climate change in the abstract, but they don't understand or know the implications of it/how it affects us and our world. The government needs to make a more conscious effort in educating everyone in New Zealand, so that EVERYONE is equipped to make at least small changes- you can't change your behaviour if you don't know why or how
