A climate law like the Zero Carbon Act is important because...

A meeting of parishioners at All Saints Anglican Church Hokitika fully endorsed the need for legislation to reduce harmful greenhouse gases. The Bible talks a lot about caring for people who are less fortunate and more vulnerable than us and these people are disproportionately affected by climate change. In particular we are concerned about the danger to our pacific neighbours caused by sea level rise.

Long-term target

We support the most ambitious target of reducing total greenhouse gases to net zero by 2050. We also support taking a science-based approach to ensure our efforts to reduce emissions are as impactful as possible: we should aim for negative levels of long-lived gases, while reducing short-lived gases to sustainable levels. This target should be reached by reducing our own emissions and not by using international carbon credits.

Climate Commission

We support the establishment of an independent Climate Commission that is made up of experts and provides advice, but does not make final decisions.

Adaptation

I support a plan for adaptation being included in the Zero Carbon Act.

Climate justice

A Zero Carbon Act must be just and fair in that it honours Te Tiriti o Waitangi; ensures a just transition for workers and communities; and avoids passing on the costs to future generations.
