Notes

Before the government wastes precious tax it needs to be absolutely sure that carbon is harming civilization. New Zealand could also use the annual $1.4 billion for its own citizens by stopping payment to the failed Paris Accord. That money could be used to build houses for the homeless. According to satellite data the earth's surface has not warmed in 20 years and that temperatures have increased considerably less than two degrees celcius since the 1880s. When only 77 scientists of more that 3400 submissions in the Doran-Zimmerman report are used to scare the populace, it is clear that there is a serious scam taking place. Close the Climate Commission and stop wasting OUR money.
