In short - if politicians are just as lazy as here in the U.S. - and no one high up will want to/have time to read the long explanation of why these are such an underrated threat: these are a silent killer of animals and can climb up the food chain to humans! :(All in all, microbeads suck and are 100% unnecessary!! Can you imagine how much you're swallowing over a lifetime!? I 100% support this proposal to ban the beads and it's great that it has been opened to public consultation!! Kelsey Larson
