

Daniel Dacey

From: Cliff Mason [REDACTED]
Sent: Wednesday, 3 June 2015 5:01 p.m.
To: Climate Contribution
Subject: Submission 9466 - Part 3

I hope that the Government will admit that Climate Change is a serious problem and that they will promise to do something meaningful about it now and not at some indefinite date in the future. It worries me that they do not seem to take it seriously - unlike almost everyone except government spokespeople.

It is readily apparent from the weather extremes that the whole planet is experiencing that climate change is upon us and inaction is no longer a luxury that we can afford.

NZ has always been a leader in environmental concerns and we should again be a leader - we can afford to be so. Please set a more stringent target,

Dorothy Mason [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]