I have grandchildren; they will have nothing to live for, sadly, you are TOO LATE, and you continue to waffle.
I drive a 600cc motorcar, avoid cities, and eat as much home grown food as possible.
Your entire Govt. strategy is wrong, and while you are OK, our future generations are not.
Filling our crappy houses with Asthma-causing fibreglass batts is NOT A SOLUTION!
Buses can run on sewage.
Above ground monorails will keep infrastructure accessible when all your motorways are jammed with the wreckage that will soon be our future.
Water? It is not for sale:(
For gods sake wake up:(
